The Olympic Creed, delivered by Baron Pierre de Coubertin, 1894

- "At the Olympic Games, the most important thing is not to win, but to take part, as in life the most important thing is not the victory, but the fight. The essential thing is not to win, but to fight correctly.

- he Greek Olympic games left mankind with the famous Olympic peace, and the laurel wreath placed on the foreheads of the participants today is the symbol of peace, the heraldic symbol for several
